Jeanna Gomez is the owner of Gomez Counseling and Consulting Services (GCCS), and Trauma Healing and Recovery Center. She comes with 25+ years in clinical and trauma recovery experience. Jeanna is a Complex Trauma Specialist and Relational therapist who utilizes Somatic Experiencing including SE Touch work, Integral Somatic Psychology, Brain Spotting, EMDR, and Post Induction Therapy Model (PIT) in her work with clients. GCCS offers private counseling to individuals, couples, and groups utilizing Pia Mellody's PIT therapy model as a foundational model to heal developmental trauma, relational trauma, codependence, anxiety disorders and addictions.

In addition to her training with Pia Mellody, she utilizes Peter Levine's Somatic Experience (SE) and Francine Shapiro's Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR) with clients who have experienced shock trauma, including childhood trauma. Brainspotting, developed by David Grand, Ph.D, and Integral Somatic Psychology (ISP), developed by Dr. Raja Selvam has become additions to the forms of therapy that Ms. Gomez uses with clients. She has found Brainspotting to have amazing results with clients healing from developmental and shock trauma, performance anxiety, phobias, and sports related traumas. ISP has allowed for more growth with clients who have experienced difficult emotions as a result of trauma. It provides tools to assist clients with the embodiment of emotions which results in movement of negative energy patterns in the persons whole system.

She is devoted to providing healing from trauma and has found these models to be most effective. Jeanna also conducts her own intensive workshops and groups entitled "Boundaries Saying Yes to your No, A Somatic Healing Workshop", "Ignite! Your True Self: Reclaim your Warrior Goddess A Women's Empowerment Circle", "Living Life Claiming Your Voice" Family of Origin Intensive; and the "Somatic Side of Shame" to name a few. Take a look at the GCCS website for more information, including upcoming intensive workshops, professional trainings and groups.

Jeanna spearheaded bringing the Somatic Experiencing Professional Trainings to Houston and is the Lead Training Assistant for the Houston & St Louis trainings and the first Latina SE Practitioner in Houston. She is also now on the Faculty Track for Somatic Experiencing International (SEI) and will begin her own SE trainings in the coming year. For SE students she offers Personal and Case Consultations as well as Group Case Consultations and monthly Gatherings for BIPOC SE Trauma Professionals. Learn more about the SE Houston community.
